The Yolo Democrat.

Friday, December 25th, 1874.

Little Feet.

Two little feet—so small that both may nestle
In one caressing hand—
Two tender feet upon the border Of life's mysterious land.

Dimpled and soft, and pink as peach-tree blossoms.

How can they walk among the briers tangled Edging the world's rough ways?

These rose-white feet along the doubtful future

Must bear a woman's load!

Alas! since Woman has the heaviest burden,
And waits the harder road.

Love, for awhile, will make the path before them

All dainty, smooth and fair—Will cut away the blemishes, letting only The roses blossom there.

But when the mother's watchful eyes are shrouded

Away from sight of men, And these dear feet are left without her guiding

Who shall direct them then?

How will they be allured, betrayed, deluded, Poor little untaught feet!

Into what dreary mazes will they wander, What dangers will they meet?

Will they go stumbling blindly in the darkness?

Or find the upland slopes of Peace and Beauty, Whose sunlight never fades?

Will they go tottering up Ambition's summit,
The common world above?

Or in some nameless vale, securely sheltered, Walk side by side with Love?

Some feet there be which walk Life's track unwounded

Which find no pleasant ways, Some hearts there be which find this life is only A round of happy days.

But they are few. Far more there are who wander

Without a hope or friend—Who find their journey full of pains and lonely

And long to reach the end.

How shall it be with her, the tender stranger Fair-faced and young?

Before whose unstained feet the world's rude highway

Stretcheth so fair and wide?

Ah! who may read the future? For our darling

We crave all blessings aye,
And pray that He who feeds the crying ravens Will guide the baby's feet.

JUDON MORRIS, of the United States Court for San Francisco, made his decision in the California Pacific Railroad case. He overrules all the objections of the attorneys of the railroad company except as to the number of petitioners for bankruptcy of the road required, and gives the petitioners ten days in which to procure other creditors to join them in their petition.

Mrs. ESTABROOK says that naturally the American girls have the sweetest voices in the world.
No country on the globe produces finer natural voices, and if the people of the vast Republic would only encourage our girls to perfect their musical education and the girls would only give up their folly and cultivate their bodies and soul, we would soon have as fine opera singers as the foreigners produce.

The carrier pigeon when traveling never feeds. If the distance be long it flies without stopping to take refreshment, and at last arrives tired, exhausted, almost dying. If corn be presented to it, it refuses, continuing flight with drinking a little water and then sleeping.
Two hours later it begins to eat with moderation, and sleeps again immediately afterward.
If it is not fed in this manner for forty-eight hours before recovering its normal mode of feeding.

A Representative and Champion of American Art Taste!

Prospectus for 1875--8th year.

THE ALDINE.

THE ART JOURNAL OF AMERICA, ISSUED MONTHLY.

"A MAGNIFICENT CONCEPTION WONDERFULLY CARRIED OUT."

The necessity of a popular medium for the representation of the productions of our great artists, has always been recognized, and many attempts have been made to meet the want.

The success of this attempt in this country to establish an art journal, did not prove the indifference of the people of America to the claims of high art. So soon as a proper appreciation of the want and an ability to meet it were shown, the public at once rallied with enthusiasm to its support, and the result was a great artistic and commercial triumph--THE ALDINE.

"THE ALDINE," while issued with all the regularity, has none of the temporary or faded interest characteristic of ordinary periodicals. It is an elegant miscellany of pure light, and graceful literature; and a collection of pictures, the rarest specimens of artistic skill, in black and white. Although each number affords a fresh pleasure to its friends, the real value and beauty of "THE ALDINE" will be most appreciated after it is bound up at the close of the year. While other publications may claim superior cheapness, as compared with rivals of a similar class, "THE ALDINE" is a unique and un-approached original conception--alone and un-approached--absolutely without competition in price or character. The possession of a complete volume does not duplicate the quantity of paper and engravings in any other magazine, and the price of volume for ten times its cost; and then, there is the chromo, besides.

The feature of "THE ALDINE" is an original illustration of American scenery, original with "THE ALDINE." It is an important feature, and its magnificent plates are of a size more appropriate to the satisfaction of the eye than can be afforded by any inferior paper. The judicious interposition of landscape, marine, figure, and animal subjects, sustain an unabated interest, impossible where the scope of the work compels too closely to a single style of subject. The literature of "THE ALDINE" is of the light and graceful accompaniment, worthy of the artistic features, with only such technical disquisition as does not interfere with the popular interest of the work.
